Georgia-Pacific Repeats Schneider National Recognition as Dedicated Carrier of the Year

On-time delivery, stellar service help Schneider take home the trophy for the second year in a row

GREEN BAY, Wis. – (August 17, 2009) – Schneider National, Inc., a premier provider of transportation, logistics and intermodal services, recently received the 2008 Dedicated Carrier of the Year Award from Georgia-Pacific (NYSE: GP). This is the second consecutive year that Schneider was recognized for the service it provides to Georgia-Pacific, one of the world's leading manufacturers and marketers of building products, tissue, packaging, paper, pulp and related chemicals.

Georgia-Pacific's Paul Snider, vice president, transportation, stated, "We are honored to present Schneider National with our Dedicated Fleet Award because they consistently deliver on-time to our customers 98% of the time, while handling our most complex requirements for delivery logistics. They are leaders in the transportation industry because of their technology, support and excellent service."

"Being named Georgia-Pacific's Dedicated Fleet Award winner means a lot to the customer service folks and drivers who work so hard every day to deliver excellence for this valued customer," said Todd Jadin, senior vice president and general manager of Schneider's Dedicated division. "We're proud that G-P relies on Schneider to come through for them – especially in tough situations. They trust us to come up with innovative logistics solutions that keep their goods flowing across the country."
