For the purpose of securement guidelines, coiled metal products include steel, aluminum, copper or any metal alloy products that are shipped as rolls, spools, reels, plates, sheets, rods, or strip metal products.

Generally, our trailers/containers are not designed to haul coiled metal products. Van trailers/containers do not have the required tie-downs to properly secure these products using chains or straps to prevent shifting while in transit as required by the Federal Motor Carriers Safety Regulations (FMCSR). In addition to the FMCSR, there are additional requirements that must be met if the trailer/container will move by rail.

The transportation of coiled metal products, as defined above, that weigh in excess of 3,500 pounds each is prohibited without prior approval from the Loss Prevention Department.

Note: We DO NOT accept any illegal commodities for transportation.

Examples of No Haul for Over the Road, Dedicated, and Intermodal but OK or Restricted for STM. These loads require chains/straps and tie downs to meet the requirements of the FMCSR. STM would have to supply the proper trailer to transport these loads.
